Preference file font setting being ignored

2011-07-19 07:33 AM - Stuart Sides

Impact:		Software Version:
Description The preference file does not accept changes to the font type or size. This may be a problem only on macs. Could be this option may have been removed or never worked. At minimum we may want to allow the font size to increase or decrease on the GUI much like a browser.

I can confirm that this preference is not being used everywhere (if anywhere).

This seems like it was an old work-around to not taking a user's desktop preferences which ought to contain all of the font information we would want.
